Nobody is against sustainability - Greening EPFL's School of Life Sciences

This seminar will focus on EPFL's efforts to become a more sustainable university, through the lens of its School of Life Sciences. We will explore sustainability projects, such as the life-cycle assessment of the animal facility, the calculation of CO₂ emissions at the lab level, and setting up a plastic recycling system, as well as initiatives on mobility, commuting and food habits.

24 March 2022, 12:00 pm

(CET/UTC+1)

The seminar will take place online via Zoom.
